Land Registry

Registration of title to land is compulsory on sale throughout the whole of England and Wales. The table following indicates the land registry office serving each authority and also the dates on which compulsory registration was applied to each district. Owing to the numerous boundary changes that have occurred between the time when some of the Orders were made and the reorganisations of local government on 1 April 1974 and 1 April 1996, it is not always practicable to rely upon the names of the districts given as having always applied to the area in question. If it is important to ascertain the precise date when compulsory registration first applied to a particular property, enquiry may be made of the appropriate land registry office or Land Registry Practice Guide 51 accessible in the publications section of their primary website (see below).
